What if you could team up with one organization that provides your students with access to more than 2,200 companies looking for the next generation of real estate finance professionals? Look inside to learn more.
The Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) is the national association representing the entire real estate finance industry. Our 2,200 member companies represent the depth and breadth of the industry, spanning all aspects of real estate finance, including commercial, multifamily and residential markets. We are committed to cultivating a sustainable and vibrant future for our industry, and believe this can be achieved by establishing a well-trained workforce of diverse talent.

MBA Education, the education arm of the association, is the industry’s premier source for reliable information, tools and training. Mortgage Banking Bound is brought to you by MBA Education and was developed to help educate your students about the industry and connect them to related opportunities.

“As colleges reimagine their roles for the 21st century, they are committing to work with business and industry to provide trained and adaptable talent.”

— Walter Bumphus, President, American Association of Community Colleges

Real estate finance is a dynamic, growing $13 trillion industry.¹

There is no better time to get into the real estate finance industry than now. The marketplace is on the rise, with home sales increasing at a steady pace year over year. In order for our industry to continue to flourish, leading real estate finance companies need new, diverse talent to fill a growing demand of job opportunities in the loan-process cycle.

1. Mortgage debt outstanding/size of industry, including commercial, multifamily and residential — Federal Reserve Board.
2. Home sales — National Association of Realtors, Census Bureau

Homes sales have increased by 10% every year since 2011.²

The real estate finance industry employs more than 280,000 people in virtually every community in the country.³

It can take up to 12 different mortgage professionals to process a single loan from start to finish.
An Incredible Value

Our vision is to build a sustainable workforce in the dynamic and multifaceted real estate finance industry. MBA is seeking educational institutions interested in offering students a unique education, certification and career assistance opportunity from a trusted and credible source.

Enhance Your Curriculum
MBA has access to industry professionals that are eager to bring their expertise to the classroom, connecting academic learning with real-world application.

Increase Job Placement Rates at Your School
We know that increasing your job placement rate is important to you and key to distinguishing your curriculum from that of neighboring institutions. That kind of achievement comes from robust programming that prepares your students for professional opportunities.

Build Lasting Relationships with Local Businesses
With more than 2,200 member companies nationwide, MBA has solid relationships with leading real estate finance companies in your area. Not only does our program offer networking opportunities to your students, but it creates a foundation for your institution to building lasting relationships within your community.

Connect Your Students with Employment Opportunities
As an all-inclusive employment assistance and training program, we offer your students free access to potential employers through our Career Center and Virtual Career Fairs. Ease your graduating students into the work force — these online platforms make it easy for them to search for local and nationally-placed job opportunities and connect with hiring professionals.
An Extraordinary Opportunity

Mortgage Banking Bound is an online web series presented by the Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA), the only national association that represents the entire real estate finance industry. Mortgage Banking Bound is designed to give participants an exclusive insight into the field of mortgage banking while complementing their current college/university coursework. The curriculum is designed to offer participants the opportunity to gain introductory skills and become familiar with the various career possibilities in mortgage banking.
