The Honorable Mitch McConnell
Republican Leader
U.S. Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Speaker Pelosi, Leader Schumer, Leader McConnell, and Leader McCarthy:

The A Call to Invest in Our Neighborhoods (ACTION) Campaign, representing over 2,400 national, state, and local affordable housing stakeholders, urges Congress to expand the reach of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (Housing Credit) before the end of the 117th Congress to increase essential affordable rental housing production. Increased resources are critically needed to better align the supply of rental housing with demand to combat skyrocketing rental housing costs that are harming American families, seniors, and all low-income renter households.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shelter was the single largest component of the Consumer Price Index as of October 2022, making up approximately one-third of total costs.¹ Rent payments are by far the largest expense for renter households, and rents have risen at an unprecedented rate over the last two years. This is largely due to the fact that since the Great Recession, our nation has woefully underbuilt, resulting in demand far outstripping supply for affordable rental housing. Congress must address this disparity, which will only get worse unless we act.

Not only have rents been rising precipitously, but the cost to develop housing of all sorts — affordable and market rate — have rapidly increased over the last few years due to supply chain disruptions, workforce shortages, and rising interest rates. According to independent research by Abt Associates, nearly all developments awarded Housing Credits since 2019 have faced significant financing gaps due to higher-than-expected costs and/or project delays.² The average funding gap is estimated to be approximately 30 percent of original anticipated costs.

² Filling the Gaps: How State Agencies are Moving to Meet the Growing Threat to Affordable Housing, Abt Associates, September 2022

This means that we are building fewer homes with existing resources than we were just a few years ago.

The Housing Credit is our nation's most effective affordable housing financing tool. It is a model public-private partnership program that has earned strong bipartisan, bicameral support since its inception in 1986. Expanding production through the Housing Credit is essential for addressing the shortage of affordable rental housing and address inflationary impacts, especially for low-income individuals and working families across the country.

The ACTION Campaign and undersigned organizations urge Congress to take two critical steps to expand the Housing Credit

- Expand Housing Credit authority. We simply do not have enough Housing Credit authority to meet demand. Unfortunately, we have moved backward rather than forward in this regard. At the end of 2021, a small but meaningful increase in the Housing Credit expired, thus, in 2022 there were less Credit resources than there had been in the preceding years. This 12.5 percent increase had been in place since Congress struck a bipartisan agreement in 2018, but it expired at the worst possible time, given rising development costs. The undersigned organizations and businesses call on Congress to increase the Housing Credit by 50 percent. At a bare minimum, Congress should reinstate the 12.5 percent cut to Housing Credit authority, adjusted for inflation.
- Enhance the use of existing Private Activity Bond (PAB) authority for rental housing production. An outdated requirement that at least 50 percent of the cost of rental housing properties must be financed with multifamily bonds to maximize Housing Credit equity is preventing states from getting the most out of existing PAB authority to finance affordable rental housing with the 4 percent Housing Credit. The undersigned organizations and businesses call on Congress to lower the bond financing threshold from 50 percent to 25 percent to make more efficient use of existing PAB resources and significantly expand rental housing production.

Together, these two actions to increase resources for the Housing Credit would finance an additional 1.93 million affordable rental homes over the next 10 years.³

Both of these provisions are included in the bipartisan, bicameral Affordable Housing Credit Improvement Act (AHCIA) of 2021 (S.1136 and H.R.2573), introduced by Senators Maria Cantwell (D-WA), Todd Young (R-IN), Ron Wyden (D-OR), and Rob Portman (R-OH), and ³ Projections on additional homes produced or preserved calculated by Novogradac & Company LLP, including lowering the PAB threshold from 50 percent to 25 percent, a retroactive restoration of the 12.5 percent to 2022, and the 50 percent allocation increase phased in at 25 percent in 2023 and an additional 25 percent in 2024.

Representatives Suzan DelBene (D-WA-01), Don Beyer (D-VA-08), Brad Wenstrup (R-OH-02), and the late Jackie Walorski (R-IN-02) in April 2021.

The AHCIA includes numerous proposals to strengthen the Housing Credit. Our organizations urge Congress to pass the bill in its entirety. However, the most crucial thing Congress can do now, given the likelihood that end-of-year tax legislation could be limited in scope, would be to take these two steps to increase the number of affordable rental homes to begin combatting rising rents for the scores of low-income individuals, working families, seniors, veterans, people with disabilities, and people experiencing homelessness in communities nationwide.

Sincerely,

Scott Hoekman,
ACTION Co-Chair and
President, Housing Investment Investments at Enterprise Community Partners
